

Jr. Book Club Home Tour Is Sunday; Proceeds Go to Community Center

A collection of antiques representing 30 years of collecting, that of Mrs. Lucille Nance Jones, will be one of the features of the home tour slated Sunday afternoon by the Junior Woman's Book Club.

The tour, which is to be from 2:30 to 6 p. m., is a community project of the club and the proceeds are to go into the fund for a community center for Canyon. Tickets are $1 each and may be purchased from club members, at the Canyon Drug or on Sunday at the K. L. Pond home, where the tour begins.

Homes on the tour other than the Jones home and the Pond home are the Lee Foster, H. R. Fulton Jr., John A. Williams, Matilda Gaume and D. C. Gamble homes.

Free refreshments are to be served at the Fulton home. Hostesses from the Junior Woman's Book Club are to be at each home on the tour to show people through the homes.

Admirers of French antiques will be especially interested in Mrs. Jones' home where there are a number of French antique vases, urns and paintings as well as various pieces of French antique furniture.

Outstanding in both the living room and dining room are large chandeliers of Baccarat crystal. The living room features a Buhl table with brass inlay on which are Meissen figurines depicting the five senses.

Of special pride to Mrs. Jones is the dining room in which is a hand-made, Chinese oriental rug weighing 750 pounds. All of the dining room furniture is hand carved fruit wood.

Man Fined $131 For DWI, Wreck

A penalty of $131.15 fine and costs and three days in jail were assessed Margarito Marquez for driving while intoxicated on a plea of guilty in Randall County Court Monday.

Marquez was involved in a minor accident with George W. Moore Sunday afternoon at Fourth Avenue and 19th St. while Moore was in the funeral procession for Clyde W. Warwick.

Appoint Chairman For Woman's Day

The appointment of Mrs. Margaret Foster as Randall County chairman for the forthcoming Democratic Woman's Day activities was announced Tuesday by Jack Taylor, Democratic County Chairman.

The date and details of the activities will be announced in the near future.

Bufs Dig for Miners in First Border Game; Site is This Side of Juarez

West Texas State will take a shot at the defending Border Conference champions Saturday night in El Paso, when the Bufs and Texas Western meet in a game that is being touted by the Miners as the game to determine a new champion.

Texas Western defeated North Texas State last week 14-13 in the opening game of their season. The game was won in the last three minutes of the game when half-back Don Maynard swooshed behind the North Texas secondary and caught a pass that went for 66 yards and the touchdown. He also intercepted a pass and ran 48 yards for the first touchdown.

The game Saturday night should be a contest between speed and power. Maynard is rated the fastest football player in the conference, with his running mates only slightly slower. All are rated faster than Ronnie Mills by Buff Coach Frank Kimbrough, and Mills

It is in this room that Mrs. Jones has on display her collection of silver which includes an English Sheffield coffee service.

Other highlights of the Jones home are a Meissen figurine more than 200 years old, a French desk, a rare porcelain painting, silver porch lights formerly lanterns from a royal family's carriage as well as English, Chinese and Early American and Italian antiques.

The home was originally the old Nance home, but the dining room has been built as a new addition and other rooms have been expanded as the collection of antiques grew.

First Storeowner Dies in Hereford

Funeral services for Nester E. Gass, Hereford's first store owner and brother of Mrs. Brucie McIntire of Canyon, were conducted Sunday afternoon in Hereford. Burial was in West Park Cemetery.

Mr. Gass, 80, died Friday night following a long illness. He moved to Deaf Smith County in 1898 from Tulsa and operated the first store in Hereford along with his father, D. R. Gass. He continued to operate the store until 1937 when he retired to look after his farms.

He was a charter member of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, a member of the city commission for 14 years, a director of ASC, the Federal Farm Loan Association, Masonic Lodge, Eastern Star and First Christian Church.

In addition to Mrs. McIntire, survivors include his wife, Mrs. Pearl Gass; three other sisters, Mrs. Mable Stambaugh, Hereford, Mrs. Deulah Hutchinson, Tulsa, and Mrs. Dimple Bennett, Amarillo.

Howdy or the Other, It's All the Same

The name of the week during which freshmen are introduced to life on the West Texas State College campus has been changed from "Hell" to "Howdy," but the program is about the same.

The "Howdy Week" activities will be climaxed Friday at 7:30 p. m. in Buffalo Stadium with the annual "Freshman Mixer," when groups of green beanie-topped students compete in a talent show for upperclassmen and the public.

The freshmen began the week Monday dressed as "kids," and were varying types of clothing during the week. There were extra-curricular activities enforced by upperclassmen, individually and in groups.

A "Death March" was held Tuesday afternoon, when freshmen were armed with paper bags and sent across campus to clean up litter.

Clyde W. Warwick Dies Friday

Death Friday night stilled the hand which guided, directed and gently urged Canyon and Randall County to become what they are today.

Memorial services for Clyde W. Warwick were held Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist Church. Officiating were the Rev. H. Doyle Ragle, pastor, Dr. J. A. Hill, president-emeritus of West Texas State College, and Dr. J. P. Cornette, president of WT.

Pallbearers were Levi Cole, Charles Hillier, James Cole, Don Standley, Clarence Thompson, Bob Bellah, Hosea Foster and Meredith Warren.

Honorary pallbearers were J. D. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burrow, Dan Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Warren, W. J. Wooten, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Walker, Clay Cooper, O. W. Parker, Rhome Mobley, Wilford Taylor, N. E. McIntire, Wes Izard, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Sheffy, S. B. Whittenburg, Mrs. Gladdis Samples and Mrs. Guy Tabor.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery under direction of Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Mr. Warwick, 71, spent nearly half a century in Canyon and his entire life here was dedicated to building a better community and county. He would have been 72 on Oct. 15, having been born in 1885 in Montezuma, Ia.

The youngest of five boys and one girl, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Warwick. His father was a farmer.

Beginning his newspaper career at an early age, Mr. Warwick was the editor of a high school page in the Montezuma Republican for his junior and senior years. Upon his graduation from high school in 1905, he was hired as editor of the paper. The idea of a high school page in the local paper came to Canyon with Mr. Warwick, and he regularly devoted a page in the Canyon paper to high school news edited by high school students.

Mr. Warwick stayed with the Montezuma Republican for one year, then left for the University of Iowa in Iowa City. Working his way through college, he operated a linotype and became a reporter for the Iowa City Republican.

In the summer of 1910, events taking place in Texas were to affect the life of Clyde Warwick, but his attention was focused on an encampment of the Iowa National Guard.

C. O. Keiser had purchased The Canyon City News from George A. Brandon in 1908. In 1909, the name of the paper had been changed to The Randall County News. The editor in 1909 was L. B. Christman, but by the summer of 1910 he was ready to leave.

Keiser needed a man to manage his newspaper in Canyon and to be the editor for it. An old Iowa man, Keiser learned of Clyde Warwick through the publisher of the Montezuma Republican and immediately sought Mr. Warwick out to offer him the job.

Mr. Warwick was attending the National Guard encampment when the position was offered. Never one to waste time, Mr. Warwick immediately left the camp, went home, packed his belongings and caught the train the next morning. Mr. Warwick arrived in Canyon on July 29, 1910, and took over the position of managing editor of The Randall County News on Aug. 1, 1910.

In 1911, Keiser sold Mr. Warwick a one-fourth interest in the newspaper. In 1913, the company was incorporated. Keiser kept half of the stock, Mr. Warwick had one-fourth and the remaining quarter of the stock was owned by Mrs. Keiser, Oscar Hunt and J. W. Reid.

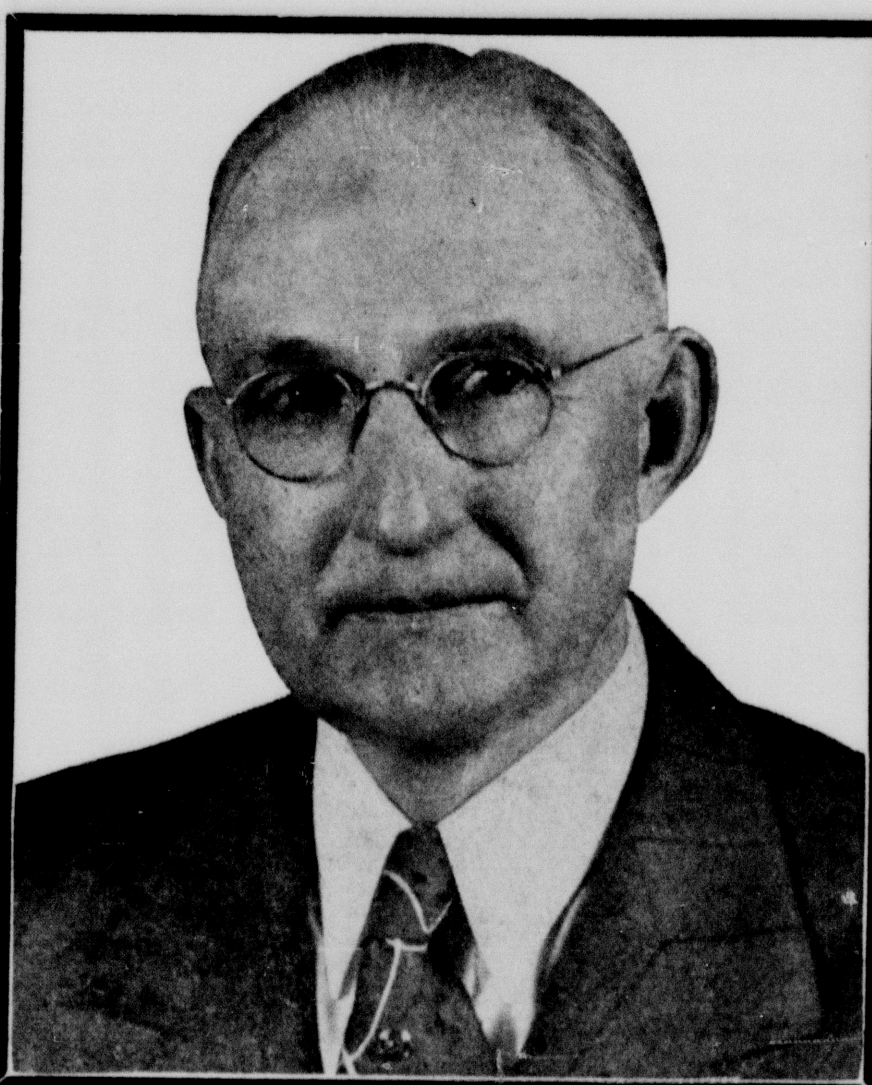

In October, 1920, Mr. Warwick purchased outstanding stock and became sole owner. He kept his ownership intact until 1947 when he sold a one-third interest to his son-in-law, Arthur C. Haley Jr., the present publisher.

In 1951 Mr. Warwick sold an interest in the paper to Charles Hillier, who started to work for him in 1942 and who continues to retain his interest in the company.

A little known episode in Mr. Warwick's career came in 1918. A sparse announcement in the issue of June 27, 1918, told that Mr. Warwick was leaving for war work.

Never one to beat his personal drum, Mr. Warwick's announcement said simply, "With this edition of the Randall County News, C. W. Warwick leaves the management of the paper to go into war work. He continues to hold his stock in the paper and will return after the war."

Just a little less than a year later, on June 19, 1919, another announcement appeared: "After hiking all over France for the past year the News man is back in God's country. We are not sorry we went and we wouldn't take a stack of money for the experience, but wouldn't give a little old centime to go through it again under the same circumstances."

"The Plains looks good. No place ever looked better than Canyon. We're back on the job and glad of it. The only regret in coming home is the many friendly faces we miss in our greetings."

Mr. Warwick had left his work in Canyon and had gone to France as a YMCA secretary, looking after the needs and wants of American soldiers fighting in Europe.

When Mr. Warwick came to Canyon, the News was published in a sheet-iron building on the south side of the square. The year he obtained a quarter interest in the business, it was moved to a brick building which is located just west of the Post Office.

In 1925, five years after he became sole owner of the paper, Mr. Warwick built the present quarters of the paper and moved into them.

With an active interest in public life and in the workings of politics in our government, Mr. Warwick stood for the state legislature in 1928 and served two terms. During the four years from 1924 to 1928, Mr. Warwick was Randall County Chairman of the Democratic Party.

His two terms in the legislature were marked by an undying interest in doing what he could to further the interests of Canyon, Randall County, the Panhandle of Texas, West Texas State College, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, Palo Duro Canyon, and every other good thing in this area.

Although his terms in the legislature measured the extent of his activity in elected public office, Mr. Warwick did not diminish his work in his chosen political party. He became county chairman again in 1936 and continued in that role for a great number of years.

Mr. Warwick served his community in other ways. He was a member of the school board for eight years. He held practically every office in the Rotary Club and had a record of near-perfect attendance.

Mr. Warwick helped organize the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, served on the board of directors and donated time, money and artifacts to the museum. He held an active interest in the Chamber of Commerce and served in various offices in that organization.

He was vice president and director of the First National Bank and owned stock in the organization, which he sold in the summer of 1955. Mr. Warwick served on many boards and committees which have long been forgotten.

During World War II, Mr. Warwick took an unpopular position in the service of the United States and served as secretary of the Randall County draft board.

He was extremely active in the life of the First Methodist Church, serving on various lay boards and committees and was a faithful member of the choir, never missing practice sessions, public performances and worship services. He was never too busy to sing in choirs organized to sing at funerals here.

Believing that a strong press is the road to maintenance of freedom, Mr. Warwick was instrumental in organizing the Panhandle Press Association. He held the offices of president and vice president, but probably gave the most service to the organization by acting for secretary for 25 years.

The awards he won through his newspaper are legion. Through the years, most of the plaques, certificates and ribbons have been lost, but the papers which won the awards remain in the files.

In 1942, The Canyon News was named the "Outstanding Weekly Newspaper in Texas." It was given the same rating the following year in a journalism text book, "Editing the Day's News." Again in 1950, the paper was given top state rating.

His first place winnings were in every phase of newspaper work: Editorials, news writing, column writing, news pictures, advertising, presswork, typography, makeup.

But in addition to his documented public and religious life, Mr. Warwick had a personal life that (Cont. on Back Page Section 1)

Amarillo Chamber Invites MSU Game Move

West Texas State College has accepted an invitation from the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce to play its Oct. 5 football game with Mississippi Southern in Amarillo Stadium.

"We are very happy to accept the invitation," said West Texas State President James P. Cornette. "We appreciate the opportunity to give more area fans a chance to see this fine football game."

Amarillo Stadium can seat some 15,000 fans and the Bufs' present stadium will hold only 7,000 spectators.

College Reaching For Record Year

Enrollment at West Texas State College is expected to reach 2,000 when registration for the fall semester is completed Oct. 2. President James P. Cornette estimated the new record number of students on basis of comparable figures at the same period of enrollment last year.

Final enrollment on the Canyon campus last year was 1,778. At the end of the sixth day of registration last year, some 1,664 students had completed registering for classes. At the end of a comparable time this year, 1,853 had finished signing, a total of 1,910 had begun enrolling.

Amarillo Center enrollment Monday night had reached 910, and Dr. Cornette expects the final number at the WT evening branch to reach 1,200.

The boost in students is expected to bring WT two new record figures: its largest number to attend West Texas State in its history, and its largest number of student equivalents on a full-time basis.

Enrollment on the Canyon campus will continue through Oct. 2, while at Amarillo Center, registration closes with the second class meeting of each class. That means that enrollment for a Friday class closes Sept. 27, and for Monday on Sept. 30.

Frank Kimbrough, athletic director and head football coach of the Bufs, has announced that fans who have season tickets can merely exchange their Mississippi Southern tickets for comparable seats in Amarillo Stadium. Complete details on how to obtain other tickets to the game will be announced in a few days.

Student activity tickets will be honored at the game and West Texas students will be seated on the east side of the stadium, occupying the section starting on the 50-yard line and running north. Free transportation from Canyon to Amarillo also will be furnished for West Texas students desiring it.

The game will be a rematch of the Tangerine Bowl game last New Year's Day, when the Buffaloes defeated the Southerners in Orlando, Fla., 20-13.

Services Monday For Mrs. Griffiths

Final rites for Mrs. Dora Griffiths of Earth were conducted in the Happy First Baptist Church Monday afternoon by the Rev. C. E. Hogue, pastor, and the Rev. Cecil Meadows of Earth.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery under direction of Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel. Pallbearers were John L. Butler, Morlan McManigal, Roy C. Roberts, Troy Davis, L. H. Dent and Elvis Clayton.

Mrs. Griffiths, 75, died Saturday morning in Neblett Hospital. She was born Nov. 28, 1881. A native of Dallas, Mrs. Griffiths moved to Happy in 1926 and to Earth in 1947.

She was a member of the Rebekah Lodge, Woodman Circle and the Earth First Baptist Church.

Survivors include one son, Homer Kirsey, Happy; three brothers, B. E. Tucker, Fort Worth, C. J. Tucker, Allen, and Glenn Tucker, Lubbock; two sisters, Mrs. W. A. Ballard, Pattonville, and Mrs. R. J. Weaver, Paris; her stepmother, Mrs. Jeff Tucker, Lubbock; one granddaughter and one great-granddaughter.

The invitation was also extended to the Buffalo Touchdown Club Monday night by Gene Klein, former mayor of Amarillo, on behalf of the chamber of commerce. The club voted to help the chamber move the game to Amarillo.

Special Bus Set For El Paso Trip

Tickets for a special bus to the West Texas-Texas Western game in El Paso this Saturday are available from Bill Griffin at Griffin's Truck Stop.

A 41-passenger bus has been secured if enough reservations can be made Monday night, Griffin had 24 signed up and needed 30 to secure the bus.

Roundtrip fare for the bus will be $12.90. The schedule calls for it to leave at 8 a. m. Friday from the Steak House and return Sunday night.

One of the toughest opponents yet to face the Canyon Eagles will be in Buffalo Stadium at 8 p. m. Friday when the Dumas Demons demonstrate their power.

Tickets for the game will be on sale Thursday morning at the Pharmacy and the Canyon Drug. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Eagle Coach Bill Davis views the game as a serious test of the potentialities of his team. The Eagles defeated Slaton 26-13, Hereford 7-0 and Perryton 20-7.

Dumas has played only one game, with Snyder last Friday night, and were blanked 33-0 by Snyder. Snyder was beaten 12-7 the week before by Borger.

"If our kids are ready to play, it'll be a good game," Coach Davis said. "They've got a good bunch

KAMQ Starts Live Radio Show Here

KAMQ radio of Amarillo will initiate a daily radio show from Canyon beginning Oct. 1 to feature music and a five-minute newscast of Canyon events.

Billed the "Canyon Caravan," the show will be broadcast live from 2 to 3 p. m. Monday through Saturday. Master of Ceremonies for the show will be Bill Cunningham.

Studios for Canyon Caravan will be set up in Cunningham Appliance and the show will be sponsored by various Canyon merchants.

Organizations wanting notices of meetings or activities to be broadcast on the show should contact Cunningham at the Canyon studios or mail the notices to Canyon Caravan, Box 629, Canyon.

Safety Director Guest of Jaycees

Hal Wyrick, traffic safety director for the City of Amarillo, was guest speaker for the Canyon Jaycees Tuesday night, talking on "Driving Attitudes," and showing a safety film entitled "The Case of Officer Hallbrand."

Robert Stout, a safety officer, answered questions from the Jaycees on traffic laws.

The film shown by Wyrick depicts the incidents of a day in which a traffic officer was killed in the line of duty by an average driver who violated traffic regulations.

senior, and James Boyd, 155, junior.

On the line are Jim Watson, 175, junior guard; Dennis Owens, 170, junior guard and captain; Bob Holdcroft, 180, senior guard; James Walton, 195, junior tackle; L. C. McCullough, 170, senior tackle; Bill Baker, 165, senior end; and Royce Williams, 180, junior end.

Dumas' white hope at tackle, Gordon Bailey, who weighs 210, broke his left leg in the Snyder game. He had been expected to provide considerable strength to the line. His luck is phenomenally bad. Last year he broke an ankle and two years ago he broke a foot—all on the same side.

Dumas will be the second team from District 1-AAA to meet Canyon this season. A third, Littlefield, will be here next week.

College Regents Plan Quarterly Meet at West Texas Next Week

A three-day special meeting of the Board of Regents of Texas State Teachers Colleges has been set here at West Texas State College Oct. 3-5.

The nine-member board, which has jurisdiction over the six institutions of higher learning in the state-supported teachers colleges system, and presidents and business managers of the colleges will gather here for business sessions and committee meetings.

The board last met at WT in October, 1952, when two new buildings were dedicated at a "Regents' Day" program.

A number of events have been planned for the visitors during their free time, both in Amarillo and Canyon, according to Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WT. New dormitories will be dedicated in an assembly program Oct. 3.

Quarterly meetings, besides special meetings, are held by the board, which is composed of civic leaders from throughout the state, appointed by the governor. Members serve without pay.

Members are Frank E. White, Cleveland, president of the board; J. H. Sears of Hereford, vice president; Judge W. H. Frank Barnes of Terrell; Jack S. Woodward of Dallas; Richard F. Stovall of Floydada; Miss Elizabeth Koch of San Antonio; Hubert L. Mills of Houston; Judge C. F. Ramsey of San Augustine; and Judge William V. Brown of Texarkana.

Claude Isbell of Austin is secretary for the board.

Presidents and the colleges of the system are Dr. James G. Gee, East Texas State Teachers College; Dr. Harmon Lowman, Sam Houston State Teachers College; Dr. Bryan Wildenthal, Sul Ross State College; Dr. J. G. Flowers, Southwestern State Teachers College; Dr. Paul L. Boynton, Stephen F. Austin State College; and Dr. Cornette, WTSC.

Senator Lyndon Johnson has been described as one of the most persuasive men Washington has ever known. If you think the description exaggerated, here is an incident:

In 1948, Johnson was running for the Senate. It was the last day of the campaign. The race was close — (actually, the margin proved to be only 87 votes).

I was in the office of a San Antonio businessman who was very conservative. A friend of his had "extorted" a promise that he would meet Johnson at 4 o'clock in his hotel suite that afternoon.

"I'm not going to vote for him," my acquaintance said, "but I'm stuck—I'll have to go or Jack — (the man who had phoned) — will be sore."

Then he said, "If you will be in the hotel lobby, I'll see you right after the visit with Johnson. It won't take long. Then we can talk about that subject you want to write about."

Afterward, he told me about the interview with Johnson.

"I never met a man who was more pleasant, more alert, more dynamic, more eloquent—and, as I listened, I found he was expressing my views to perfection. I promised to vote for him and to get my friends to do so."

I knew something had happened because when the man got out of the elevator, he had an expression as though he had been hypnotized. He looked right at me without the slightest sign of recognition and walked on out.

Two hours later, he telephoned to apologize and explain.

Since that time, I have never questioned any statement as to Senator Johnson's ability to gain friends and influence people.

Ring Lardner once wrote about another author, Irvin S. Cobb:

"Mr. Cobb is never as happy as when he is among his books — of which he has a complete set."

Theodore Roosevelt once spoke with pity for "those cold and timid souls who have known neither victory nor defeat."

Dear Editor:

With the passing of Clyde Warwick, an era has been fulfilled here in Randall County; an era of conquest that has few parallels in history—the transition from the sod-burner plow to the atomic age.

It was a transition accompanied by intermittent periods of prosperity intermingled with those of heartbreaking drouth, war and depression, and through it all he was ever with us, lending a guiding hand which never faltered and showing by his faith and example that there was a future to this country—a faith which can well be justified with one look at our fair town with one of the best institutions of higher learning and surrounded by fertile farm lands.

Mr. Warwick was loved by many people, he was hated by none, for those who did not love him at least respected him as he had about him none of the devious ways of the professional politician.

From his heart, as best he could, he stated his views in plain English and that was that.

You could take it or leave it and no hard feelings if you disagreed with him. His one aim in life was to help build a better city of Canyon and Randall County. Any old timer who has been here during the past 48 years can well attest to his success along that line.

He has indelibly left his imprint on Canyon and Randall County for many years to come and we have, indeed, been fortunate in having, for so long a time, a man of his caliber in our midst.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Foreign Policy Capabilities of the United States

The foreign policy of this country is fast becoming a Number 1 issue. Until recent years there was no great need for this country to worry too much about foreign policy matters. Of course, there has always been a need in the world picture for all countries to be concerned with foreign problems and the solutions thereof.

This has been a primary matter in all European countries for many hundreds of years. Needless to say, those countries have become skillful artisans in that particular political area.

The United States being one of the youngest countries in the world, as well as the richest, and having progressed much faster than any other country in world history, occupied a rather enviable position insofar as foreign affairs were concerned. We not only had the resources and raw materials to make us self-sustaining, we also had the know-how to develop them.

This is all well and good, but as civilization continues to progress, new discoveries and new developments gradually reduce the size of the world. Air transportation has moved forward beyond the most fantastic dreams of most people.

The development of the intercontinental missile has everyone frightened. These and many other developments increase the great need for international understanding and for peoples of different nationalities to be able to live together and get along together in the world.

All of this means that this country, as the leader in world progress must assume its responsibility to its own citizen in being adequately capable in world affairs.

In order to meet this responsibility it will be necessary to give much attention to our diplomatic service. Many feel that we presently have a very inadequate and ill-equipped diplomatic service. Some feel this is due to the appointment of people to ambassadorial posts simply because they make substantial contributions to political parties.

To say that such a practice has not existed is to refuse to acknowledge the truth. The truth is that many men have been appointed to ambassadorial posts in both Democratic and Republican Administrations who were not equipped by education or temperament to serve the best interests of this country.

This practice is well known to foreign countries, and you may be assured they have taken advantage of these circumstances when dealing with this government.

Some people feel that our diplomatic service is not of the caliber it should be due to the fact that it is extremely difficult for young people to get into that service.

There has been no concerted effort on the part of our government to train personnel for this service. It is most difficult to obtain information from any source, including the State Department, as to how one may enter such service.

People in government have complained to me that these foreign service posts are filled many times by the relatives and personal friends of those in the service. Complaints have reached me that many, who are supposed to be representing this country in foreign countries, have been in those countries so long that they inadvertently represent the interests of the country in which they are stationed, rather than the interests of this country.

In any event, we do know there is a great deal of room for improvement and that something should be done about it.

It was with this thought in mind that 10 members of the House of Representatives, including myself, from states all over the nation, introduced a Joint Resolution to study the problem and to report to the Congress on ways and means

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

A meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 1, at 7:30 p. m. in the Farm Bureau office to elect a supervisor for subdivision No. 4 of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District.

Subdivision No. 4 includes all land east of Highway 87 and north of Farm Road 217 to the county line.

To be eligible to vote or to hold office as a soil conservation district supervisor a person must own agricultural land within the subdivision where the election is being held. He (or she) must live in a county all or any part of which is in the soil conservation district. The voter must have attained the age of 21 years. No poll tax is required.

Under the community property laws of Texas the wife of a landowner also owns land and is entitled to vote and hold office.

There will be a short meeting with the election to follow.

Altar Society To Hold Benefit Dinner

St. Ann's Altar Society held its first meeting of the fall season recently. The society discussed plans for a fried chicken dinner to benefit St. Ann's Catholic Church.

This dinner is to be Oct. 6 at the VFW Hall. Serving hours will be between 12 noon and 2 p. m. and again from 5 to 7 p. m. Prices for the meal are to be 75 cents for children between the ages of six to 12, and $1.50 for those over 12 years of age.

The Holy Name Society, the men's organization of the church, will be in charge of the games.

Mrs. Glenn Haynes Heads Canyon HD

Officers for 1958 for the Canyon Home Demonstration Club have been elected. Mrs. Glenn Haynes is to serve as president, and vice president is Mrs. Bill Wilson.

Secretary-treasurer is Mrs. Doug Louder, and the council delegate of expanding and modernizing the Foreign Service of the United States.

We shall continue our efforts until some good results are accomplished. What is needed is a massive transfusion of "main street" of the smaller towns of the United States into the arteries of our Foreign Service. Through this medium better and more complete understanding between the peoples can be accomplished.

WSCS Hears Plans For Annual Bazaar

Mrs. Charles Wilkinson, bazaar chairman, presented plans Tuesday to the Woman's Society of Christian Service for the annual Christmas bazaar at the Ford house Dec. 7. Plans for various hand-made gifts were also presented.

The program theme, "March to Missions," was presented by Mrs. Bennie Woods. She was assisted by Mrs. Piner Stevens, Mrs. H. C. Hudson, Mrs. D. A. Nicholas and Mrs. Art Roberts.

During the business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. Alfred Bellah, two vacancies in offices were filled by election. Mrs. Stevens was elected vice president in charge of programs, and Mrs. Hudson was elected secretary of spiritual life.

This was the monthly meeting and luncheon of the WSCS and hostesses were the Joyce Hill Circle with Mrs. W. D. Walker, junior chairman.

Winn, Scott Take Putting Tourney

The final putting tournament of the season will be held Oct. 4 at the Canyon City Club to select the singles champion.

Bruce Winn and James Scott defeated Ross Craig and Duane Howard last Friday in the finals of the partnership tourney to take the championship.

Entry fee for the singles tournament will be $1 and any golf player or enthusiast is eligible to play.

Television Series Still Open at WT

Enrollment is still open in the weekly television series, "Adventures in Education," through which college graduates without teaching certificates can become eligible to teach.

First lesson in the series will be televised over Amarillo's KGNC-TV Saturday, and persons interested in the course may register with Curtis Babcock in the department of public services at West Texas State College.

College graduates enroll, view the series each Saturday morning, and may begin teaching in public schools of the area. Teacher permits for the 1957-58 school year are issued to those enrolled, and they may be renewed for three additional years.

WT has also opened enrollment to college seniors under a special plan, whereby the students may become eligible for a teaching permit. The plan enables liberal arts seniors who have had no courses in education, but who wish to teach, to become eligible to teach. No credit is given, but teaching permits are available to students who complete the series.

Dr. J. B. Roberts, head of the education department at WT, has been appointed by the commissioner of education, as chairman of the Panhandle area coordinating committee. Other persons on the committee are Dr. Alfred Little, Borger superintendent; R. A. Selby, assistant superintendent in Amarillo, and Fred Cunningham, superintendent in Hereford.

The television series of 26 programs is taught by Dr. Arthur H. Moehlman, education professor at the University of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Byrd and family, Mrs. Ida Byrd of Lockney, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Byrd of Lamesa were weekend visitors in the J. D. Byrd home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Knox and son of Whiteface visited over the weekend in the F. V. Brasher home.

• CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt appreciation for the many acts of kindness, cards and floral offerings received during the illness and passing of our loved one. May God bless you all.

CCYC Officers Elected Monday

The Canyon Ministerial Alliance called a meeting of the Canyon Christian Youth Council Monday to discuss plans for the year and elect officers.

Lloyd Mann is the newly elected president, and vice president is Mary Gladys Marshall. Louise Higdon is secretary; Marla Free, treasurer; Betsy Callarman, publicity chairman; and Barbara Brown, devotional and program chairman.

Mrs. W. W. Hungate Hosts Bible Class

The Methodist Women's Wesley Bible Class held its September meeting with Mrs. W. W. Hungate. A covered dish luncheon was served.

The home was decorated with fall flowers, and a watermelon basket holding cantaloupe and watermelon balls and grapes centered the dining room table.

A song and devotional composed the program. Present were Mrs. Hattie Brasuel, Mrs. Rosie Hungate, Mrs. R. M. Barton, Mrs. J. A. Wiseman, Mrs. Blanche Haines, Mrs. Mary Jenkins, Mrs. Martha Penick, Mrs. Mittie Workman, Mary Moss Richardson and guests, Mrs. Doyle Ragle and son, John, Mrs. Tom Wiggins, Mrs. Leland Graves, Mrs. Olga Seales, L. L. Hungate and Larry Hungate.

Buff Bees Beat By H-SU Thursday

The Hardin-Simmons University B-Team slashed under the West Texas B-Team 32-6 last Thursday in a benefit game in Hereford.

Bob Herring, frosh quarterback from Pampa, scored the Buffs' lone touchdown in the first quarter on a one-yard plunge.

In the second quarter, H-SU took over the scoring privileges and held them through the game. Dallas Christain went 55-yards on an intercepted pass and Harold Stephens added the point.

Jack Taylor scored from the one and Royce Barnes ran 53 yards.

In the fourth quarter, touchdowns were by Barnes and Stephens with John Bradshaw kicking one extra point.

Smocked Pillow Tops Shown at Meeting

Members of the Amity Club were shown smocked pillow tops made by Mrs. W. I. Wester and Mrs. Walter Stewart at their meeting Friday afternoon, Sept. 20, in the home of Mrs. Wester. The club members voted to make similar tops for gifts.

The roll call was answered with each member telling something interesting that had happened to her during the summer. Readings were given by Mrs. Wester and Mrs. R. E. Gill. In the absence of the president, Mrs. S. L. Terry presided at the business meeting.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. W. T. Davis, Mrs. R. H. Long, Mrs. T. T. Fain, Mrs. Henry Cone, Mrs. E. I. Danner, Mrs. J. H. Wright, Mrs. J. C. Dowd, Mrs. W. H. Harden, Mrs. Gill, Mrs. Penny Cox, Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Wester, members, and Mrs. C. M. DeGraffenreid and Mrs. Stewart, guests. The next meeting will be with Mrs. R. D. Lowry on Friday, Oct. 18.

Haggard Elected To CPA Institute

William F. Haggard, professor of business at West Texas State College, has been elected a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, national professional society of CPAs.

Mrs. E. I. Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Glenn and family of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Boyce and family of Panhandle, Mrs. John Smith and sons of Amarillo, and Raymond Patke of Marlin Wells spent the weekend in the Bill Patke home.

Buffaloes Take Second Straight Win from Raiders

Displaying power and aggression the West Texas State College Buffaloes humiliated Texas Tech Saturday night and added insult to injury by holding the Red Raiders on the one and one-half yard lines in the last two plays of the game.

The 19-0 score was the first shutout of the Buffs over Tech since 1930 and the win was the second time that the Buffs had defeated Tech twice in a row in the series. WT downed the Raiders 34-14 last year.

Ronnie Mills, noted for fast, shifty running, provided a pleasant surprise for Buffalo fans by proving an ability to pass, throwing five, completing four and two for touchdowns.

The Buff defense kept the Reds from raiding all through the game until the end—when only seconds were left. Quarterback Dellinger passed to Floyd Cole on the Buff five. Then he passed to Norm Blocker in the end zone. The ball was batted down, but interference was ruled and the ball was put in play on the WT one.

The Buffs held steady, allowing the Raiders nothing and the clock ran out. Offsides was ruled against WT and the ball was moved to the half-yard line and Tech was given another chance even though the time for the game was finished.

The Buffs held again and spilled Dellinger for a one-yard loss to give West Texas the shutout. The first half was a grinding battle with heavy penalties and two players—WT's Jim Jones and Tech's Jerry Bell—being ejected.

Tech's bench drew a 15-yard penalty for comments to the officials. Mills started the Buffalo offense rolling in the second half with an intercepted pass on the Tech 43.

He ran back to the 38 and WT was on its way.

Two plays after the interception, Mills faded on a running pass and tossed to Bob Ratliff in the clear. Running at full speed, Ratliff took the ball in the end zone when 11:29 remained in the third quarter.

A few minutes later, Bob Whelchel recovered a Dellinger fumble on the Tech 42 and away the Buffs went again. Sanders set up the score on a 28-yard race to the two-yard line.

In two plays, Whelchel punched over with 6:53 left. Tommy Coffey's extra point kick was good. He had missed on the first try.

In the fourth quarter, the Buffs made scores out of another Tech mistake. Dellinger fumbled and Harold Lamb recovered on the Tech 40. In eight plays, the Buffs had moved to the 11 and Mills went out on another pass.

This time he tossed to Coffey on the five, and Coffey juggled the ball before pulling it in and racing across for the score. His extra-point try was no good, but the Buffs had a 19-0 lead.

First string quarterback Jack York was injured in the first half and was taken from the game on a stretcher. He was taken to the Methodist Hospital where cuts on his face were stitched up and he returned to the game, seeing brief action in the second half. His quarterbacking chores were taken over by Lindley Davis.

While it may not have been so, it seemed to fans that the 50-yard line was a jinx for the Raiders. They crossed only once in the first half, to the Buff 49. In the second half, each time they crossed they were pushed back within two plays each time—on fumbles, setbacks or penalties—except for the last drive that failed.

Eagles Arrest Rangers

Playing "ball control," the Canyon Eagles dumped the Perryton Rangers 20-7 in Perryton Friday night to keep their season record clear of defeats.

The Eagles averaged 4.28 yards per carry on the ground and six yards per pass attempt, while Perryton was held to 3.78 yards per carry on the ground and 5.5 yards per attempt in the air. Canyon's total offense was 240 ground yards to 159 for Perryton and 30 yards in the air to 39 for the Rangers.

Canyon scored once each in the first, third and fourth quarters and the Rangers made their single touchdown when only 20 seconds remained in the first half.

Playing in a stiff easterly wind the Eagles won the toss and elected to take the east end of the field. Perryton decided to kick off, and the Eagles got the ball on the 50-yard line when the Rangers kicked out of bounds twice.

The two teams exchanged punts on the first two series of downs, then the Eagles took over with purpose in their eyes. Taking the ball on the Perryton 46, Eddie Boydston carried for two, then four and Leonard Miller took over with runs of two and four for a first down on the 34.

Quarterback A. L. Pruett was stopped at the line of scrimmage, but Miller made up for it with a 24-yard run to the Ranger eight.

Ronnie Huyck carried for three yards, then Miller busted the remaining five yards for the score. Pruett bucked the line for the extra point while the clock showed 5:58 seconds gone in the game.

The game see-sawed back and forth during the second quarter, with each side kicking to the other into the opponent's territory.

When the clock was nearly done, Perryton got possession of the ball on their own 24 from a kick by Pruett. On the first play, they were penalized for backfield in motion. On the second play, Quarterback Harold Shiflett lost three yards. Then Don Seymour picked up six. Zack Miller threw a pass to Howard Swink, but it was called back for a 15-yard penalty for holding—putting the ball on the Perryton seven.

Bobby Acker picked up 13 yards on a run, but the Rangers were forced to kick. The ball bounded high downfield then rolled dead on the Canyon 10—a 70-yard boot.

The Eagles took the ball and Boydston carried two and Huyck one, but the Eagles were penalized for holding back to the one-yard line. Pruett kicked from there, with the ball going to the 33.

The Rangers returned nine yards to the 24 and they were in business.

McKinley carried four yards to put the ball on the 20, then Shiflett drew back for a pass to Swink that was good with Swink in the end zone—with only 20 seconds left to play in the second quarter. Swink's kick was good.

After the half, the Eagles came back with blood in their eyes. Canyon kicked off, let Perryton make one play before recovering the ball on a fumble, then proceeded to keep it nearly all the quarter. The Eagles got the ball on their own 45 and moved it to the Perryton 26 in four plays.

From there Boydston picked up three yards, the Eagles were penalized for backfield in motion to the 29 and Pruett lost three yards to the 32. Fading, Pruett connected with Miller for a 22-yard pass that set up the second score.

Boydston carried two yards, then was taken out for a knee to the kidney. Pruett made another two, then lost two. From the eight-yard line, Pruett connected with Miller again and the play crossed the goal line. Ronnie Huyck tried to run the extra point, but was rebuffed. The clock showed 6:53 to run in the third quarter.

Perryton was given the ball for six plays before they fumbled and the Eagles recovered on their own 47. They kept the ball through the end of the quarter with Boydston carrying 13 yards from the 19 as the quarter ended, giving the Eagles possession on the six with a first down.

Pruett carried for one yard, Miller for two and Tommy Henderson got another two. Miller busted over for the last yard with 10:26 left in the fourth quarter. Boydston's run was good for the extra point after Perryton was penalized one yard for offsides on the first try. The score was 20-7.

During the next series of downs, the oddest play of the game occurred—one that the officials said they "goofed" on when questioned after the game.

Taking over for a series of downs on their own 30, Perryton's Seymour gained four yards, Shiflett two and McKinley three. From the 39 yard line, the Rangers prepared to kick. The kicker was rushed and his kick was deflected. The ball settled down on the 34, where it was covered by an Eagle. The officials gave the ball to the Rangers at that point.

After the game, the referee said he thought the ball went far enough to give the Rangers a first down and it would have been dead where it was touched. However, the head linesman said, after the game, that it did not, but he did not notify the referee, presuming that the referee knew what he was doing.

After the play, Perryton moved the ball to the Canyon 26, where the Eagles were penalized 15 yards for clipping. On the 11, Seymour gained one yard, McClain one and Perryton was penalized to the 24 for holding. Shiflett tried two passes, but neither was good and Canyon took over there.

Trying a play, Canyon was penalized for holding then Boydston picked up four yards. On third down, Boydston quick-kicked 48 yards when the clock showed 2:31 to play. Pruett was injured on the play and was taken from the game. He had suffered a blow on the head and was "out" on his feet. He recovered after the game with only a headache to bother him.

Perryton took the ball on their 28 and began moving in a hurry. A pass took the ball to the 47 and two runs put it on the Canyon 39. When only 36 seconds was left, the Rangers tried running—one was no good and a second went to the 13. A penalty put it back on the 25, the penalty coming on a play when the clock had finished its rounds. For their play after the game was over, Shiflett tried a pass, but it was incomplete.

WARREN'S

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

For the 72nd time in Texas, the Legislature will convene in special session Oct. 14.

Throughout the summer there was lively debate as to whether such a step should be taken. Gov. Price Daniel put an end to speculation by setting the date. Purpose: to enact laws in regard to lobby control, representation before state agencies, crime study and water development.

Calling special sessions has been more the custom of Texas governors than not. Of the 71 previously called since Texas became a state, 41 have fallen in the 46-year period since 1911—almost a year.

Almost all Governor Daniel's predecessors in the past 30 years called lawmakers back at least once. (exceptions: Beauford Jester and W. Lee O'Daniel.) Gov. Dan Moody holds the record for keeping the Legislature busy. In 10 months of 1929 and 1930 he called five special sessions.

Runners-up are Gov. Miriam Ferguson, who called four in 1933 and 1934, and Gov. Ross Sterling, who called four in 1931 and '32. Gov. James V. Allred called three in 1935-'36 and two more in 1936 and '37.

In those days a legislator had to keep his bag packed.

What were the issues that kept the lawmakers so busy in those days? Mostly, the same ones they are working on today.

In the day of Governor Moody's five calls, regular sessions were only 60 days, so a lot of routine business overflowed. But he also called their attention to special problems. Many sound familiar—improvement of the Prison System "along modern and scientific lines," regulation of securities sales, investigation of charges against a state official. At one time Governor Moody vetoed all the appropriation bills and told the Legislature to try again—within the budget.

Governor Sterling asked legislators to enact a program to conserve natural resources, particularly oil and gas, and to help farmers, hard hit by sagging cotton prices. Sterling also had a states rights vs. federal courts problem in that the U. S. Supreme Court had negated Texas' oil proration laws.

Mrs. Ferguson had to call lawmakers back again and again to wrestle with the "hard times" of the thirties. Relief bonds to help the unemployed and destitute were passed. In one of her calls, Mrs. Ferguson, with an eye for housewifely problems, called on lawmakers "to make needed appropriation for refrigeration in the Governor's Mansion."

Governor Allred's special sessions dealt with some of the most stirring issues of the thirties. He asked for liquor selling regulations following the repeal of Prohibition and for a law banning pari-mutuel betting at race tracks. He also asked for money for old age pensions ($15 a month in those days) and for more taxes to get the general revenue fund out of the red.

In most cases, the governors got the laws they wanted passed—sometimes by calling one session on the end of another, sometimes in a session as short as nine days.

Water Program Okayed
In one area—water development—legislators have their work cut out for them.

A 150-member statewide water committee approved a three-point program proposed by the governor. It calls for:

1. Appropriating $1,024,000 to set up a planning division under the State Water Board.
2. Laws enabling the state to contract for water storage space in federal reservoirs.
3. An all-out push to rally support for passage of the $200,000,000 water bond amendment to be voted on Nov. 5. Harry Provencher, Waco editor, is chairman of the campaign committee. Lon C. Hill, Corpus Christi businessman, is co-chairman.

Window-Jumping Deferred
Several people in Austin have suggested forming an "I'm bored with BenJack" Club.

Their attitude stems from Promoter BenJack Cage's refusal to testify about his part in ICT affairs during his appearances in Austin. During his flamboyant return to Texas several weeks ago Cage promised to tell things about the bankrupt companies' affairs that "would have people jumping out of windows."

Cage stayed only 10 minutes when he appeared before the Travis County grand jury. When called by the House investigating committee, he invoked the Texas brand of the Fifth Amendment and refused to testify.

If sensational informational is to be revealed, it apparently will not come until Cage comes to trial in Dallas on charges of embezzling ICT funds.

Officer Hits Traffic Laws
Texas is behind other states in traffic regulations and ahead on traffic accidents, says a Texas safety official.

C. G. Conner, assistant chief of the Highway Patrol, said Texas has one of the highest traffic death tolls in the nation. It's as much as three times as safe to drive in some other states where more up-to-date laws are being enforced, he said.

Texas had 250,000 accidents last year, Conner reported. He suggested more driver education courses for teen-agers, more traffic courts, more arresting of drunk drivers.

Officer Licensing Proposed
Serving as a peace officer should be a profession, like law, medicine and teaching, says Atty. Gen. Will Wilson.

Wilson suggested a state licensing program whereby would-be peace officers would have to meet certain requirements.

It would be slow getting estab-

Sept. 30 Deadline Set for Gas Refund

Farmers and ranchmen are reminded by C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, that September 30 is the deadline for submitting applications for a refund of the Federal tax on gasoline used for farming purposes since July 1, 1956.

Farm operators who have not filed a claim may obtain Form 2240—the reporting form—from local county agricultural agents or Internal Revenue Service offices.

Bates points out that claims will be checked for accuracy and claimants, therefore, should be certain that figures are correct. Sufficient records should also be kept to verify the claim, he adds. Claims should be submitted to the same district Internal Revenue office to which income tax returns are sent.

The legislation which makes possible the refund was passed by Congress in the spring of 1956.

Wayside News

The Rev. Joe Leatherwood filled his regular appointments Sunday, and he and Mrs. Leatherwood were guests in the E. J. Mahler home for Sunday dinner.

Mrs. W. R. Franklin had word that a friend of many years, Mrs. Gladys Thompson of Clovis, N. M., passed away Sept. 15 in the hospital in Albuquerque. She had been sick sometime. Mrs. Thompson was the former Gladys Rogers, who lived and went to school in the Fairview Community.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Franklin attended the Freddie Dalton funeral in Happy last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Fannie Stevens is visiting her daughter and family, the Dick Orrs, in Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Frances Whitesides and Dan Gillham of Amarillo visited in the W. C. McGehee home last Sunday.

Jerry LaGrone and Dr. R. P. Jarrett of Canyon are to speak at a meeting next Monday at the Wayside School. The two men are to explain the heart association and to speak on care of the heart. Everyone should attend this meeting.

The Wayside W.S.C.S. Circle met with the Vigo Circle at Vigo Park Sept. 10. It was decided that the two circles would band together. Mrs. Guy Watson and Mrs. Melton McGehee went from Wayside. Six Vigo members were present.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stockett and Mr. and Mrs. John McGehee were Happy callers Friday.

lished, said Wilson, but would raise standards and emphasize the importance of the officer's work.

Cotton Crop Up

Good farming plus early spring rains are paying off for Texas cotton growers. U. S. Dept. of Agriculture predicts the state's 1957 crop will be well above average—4,050,000 bales. Average for 1946-55 is 3,742,000.

If the crop comes out as expected, it will mean yield-per acre has almost doubled in the past few years. Texans put only about half as much acreage in cotton this year as in previous years when crops of similar volume were harvested.

Short Snorts
State Health Department reports 71.8 per cent of all Texans under 20 have received one or more polio shots. About 20 per cent have had three inoculations.

Durwood Manford, Smiley chicken farmer and one time speaker of the Texas House, will take office as a member of the Industrial Accident Board within the next month. He was appointed by Governor Daniel to succeed Buddy Jungmichel of Austin.

Texas is second in the nation in ownership of airplanes. Texas total, 5,268; California's, 7,420.

By HUGH WILLIAMSON

This is the month that separates the outdoorsmen. Some are hunters, some fishermen, some both. How does a "both" man decide where to go—field or stream? I'll guess with you. He goes dove hunting, if in reach of the North Zone; his mind's ear hears the shotgun blast, and his mind's eye sees the birds fall.

But some of our outdoorsmen will stick to their fishing. They'll figure that now September's here the fish will be a little bit more cooperative, maybe. Also, shrewdly, they'll think the best fishing spots may be less crowded, what with the hunters gone to the sunflower patch.

Let's talk about both of those guys—the fisherman first.

He is concerned about the black bass, and that fish has been suffering his usual case of the summer sulks.

He has been playing it cozy, down deep where the water is cool, moving around very little, using up not much energy and requiring a minimum of food. But he can be had.

Old time anglers are getting bass these hot days by fishing deep with minnows or plugs. Deep trolling also pays off.

The big bass are down deep as they can get to keep cool, but they have to stay above the "dead" water where the oxygen content is too low.

That may be 20 to 30 feet down, but you'll have to experiment to find the right depth in your own favorite fishing hole. All depends on the water temperature and the oxygen content of the water.

If the first norther of autumn hits before this gets into print—change signals.

When that happens, your lake or stream will "turn over." That means when the surface is colder than the bottom, the top, cold water will sink and the bottom, warmer water will rise to the top.

Look for that day! When it comes, get out your top water lures and be confident of getting bass if you are fishing in good waters and using your bait adroitly.

Meanwhile, the bass will hit surface lures, even in hot weather. Try them early in the morning or in late afternoon. Or at night.

Now About Whites
That's black bass we've been talking about. Now, what about the white bass?

All summer, these fish have been congregating in the swift water below dams, eating their fill of shad that abound in such waters.

Many fishermen have caught limit strings of white bass all through the summer, fishing in the fast water. But now, this kind of fishing has dropped off. What's the trouble?

Well, the spring-born shad are now getting a little too big for the whites to handle. So the fish are drifting downstream, looking for other food.

They will be moving around a lot. But if your minnow or spoon is there—in the right place at the right time—you will be in business in a big way.

Work your bait deep, where the water is cool, using the same technique as for blacks.

Work Lures Slowly

I suspect that most anglers work their lures too fast.

Fish like action, but they like it slow. To give an example, my fishing partner and I catch good strings of bass in the Highland Lakes of Central Texas, using minnows, either free swimming or with a light split shot.

This is the procedure: toss the minnow out there in bass water and let him swim. Put the rod down and pour a cup of coffee out of the Thermos. Maybe you get a strike, maybe not.

But pick up that rod and begin reeling in—very, very slowly. Pretty soon, here comes a little tug. Don't get excited. Wait.

Reel in some more—very slowly. Another tug, maybe harder this time. Don't strike yet, wait him out. You can feel when he is on. Then strike, hard. Result: bass.

Trotline Technique

Well, about catfishing: how often do you run your trotline?

The experts are at odds on this point. Some of them give the line a test every hour or two—others allow much more time for the catfish to get themselves hooked.

One experienced trotliner of my acquaintance belongs to the long-wait school of thought.

He reasons that a big, heavy, lazy catfish will take his own sweet time with a bream or other bait. He nibbles at it, nudges it around, contemplates it, and takes it (maybe) when the notion strikes him. I am inclined to go along with this easy-does-it kind of catfishing. Fishing is not much of a hurry-up proposition, anyhow. You've got to relax to catch fish. And learning to relax is maybe the best thing about this sport.

Dove Shooters Prosper
Turning to the hunting situation—reports coming in here say the North Zone shooters are doing pretty well, and there are plenty of birds, though some are small. Scattered rains around the state have not been heavy enough to change the birds' watering habits. One complaint of the dove hunters is that their birds fall in the dense sunflower patches and can't be found.

Mr. Warwick--

is locked, for the most part, in the memories of those who worked with him, had business dealings with him and were his personal friends.

Mr. Warwick came to Canyon a bachelor. But here he met, wooed and won another transplanted Iowan, Grace Winkelman. Present day readers of the 1910 and 1911 issues of the newspaper can see, through enlightened hindsight, the romance. The society pages told of parties where both Miss Winkelman and Mr. Warwick were guests. The News man, as Mr. Warwick called himself, regularly expressed his appreciation for a "fine dinner" at the Winkelman home.

Miss Winkelman and Mr. Warwick were married on Dec. 21, 1911, and the couple immediately left on a honeymoon that was one of the few vacations Mr. Warwick ever took. In 1936 and 1937 they adopted the granddaughter and grandson of Mr. Warwick's older brother.

Innumerable budding journalists were trained in Mr. Warwick's plant. Some have gained national recognition; and one, Dr. Edward Gerald, head of the department of journalism at the University of Minnesota, has often traced his development back to the things he learned from Mr. Warwick. Another, Olin Hinkle, is head of the journalism school at the University of Texas.

In addition to training newspapermen, Mr. Warwick helped many work their way through college by giving them jobs with The Canyon News. Others he gave a helping hand by loaning money to purchase interests in newspapers.

Mr. Warwick probably helped more people in Canyon become homeowners than could ever be realized. He was quick to make loans with little collateral to citizens of good reputation, and was never known to foreclose when his borrowers were having bad luck.

His helping hand was extended to hundreds of persons, and most remember him in their hearts for his kindness.

After completing 45 years of active service to his fellow citizens, Mr. Warwick stepped down on Aug. 1, 1955, and sold his remaining interest in The Canyon News to Haley. He continued many other activities, however, and was seen daily in the business district of Canyon until he was stricken in November of 1955.

Recuperating slowly from his attack, Mr. Warwick again was seen out in town during the early part of 1956, but after repeated attacks he became a semi-invalid and his outdoor activities were curtailed to automobile rides through Canyon and Randall County, the part of the world he loved most.

Mr. Warwick is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace Warwick; his two adopted children, Mrs. Dorothy Haley and Gerald Warwick; and five grandchildren, Mary Pat, Arthur, Dennis and Becky Haley and Ann Warwick.

Floral decorations at the First Methodist Church for the next month will be in memory of Mr. Warwick.

We were profoundly shocked Sunday when we read in the Amarillo News that your loved one and our friend had passed to the Great Beyond. Sorry we did not learn the news sooner so we could attend the funeral services.

We both have always looked upon Clyde as the best friend we ever had, and as one of God's Noblemen whom we could trust and love as a brother, and we know that his going leaves a vacancy in your lives that will never be filled in this old world of ours.

In his life, Clyde was respected by people in all walks of life, and his acquaintances were also his friends who admired his high ideals and unshakable character.

In the great scheme of life, the Lord combined happiness and sorrow to mellow his children into the kind of inhabitants He wishes to surround Him when this old earth has been swallowed into oblivion. And we, who are left behind, may take consolation in the promise that after the resurrection family ties will be rebound and not for a space of time but for Eternity.

We offer you our heartfelt sympathy in this sad hour.

Memphis Democrat

Clyde Warwick was a newspaperman's newspaperman.

His newspaper was always widely respected among newsmen, and his editorial columns were, for many years, among the most widely read . . . and widely quoted . . . in the State. Through them he exercised an influence far beyond the territory covered by The Canyon News.

But his influence on the men, and women, in the newspaper profession in West Texas went far beyond those bounds. Probably nobody knows for sure, and perhaps only Clyde Warwick himself could tell, how many newspaper careers were launched under his tutelage and guidance at The Canyon News . . . or how many of a younger generation of newspapermen and women he helped to get started in their chosen profession.

Clyde was a good friend and counsellor to many of us in the newspaper field today.

I learned to know, and respect . . . and love . . . Clyde Warwick during my student days at West Texas State College in the mid-Depression years. I learned that his sometimes brusque manner poorly concealed a genuine interest in us and our problems . . . a brusqueness that was frequently belied by a twinkle in his eyes.

On more than one occasion when the financial shoestring which was keeping me in college seemed to be at the breaking point, Clyde Warwick came to my rescue . . . with a job. Looking back, I know now that some of those jobs, at least, must have been created for the occasion . . . but Clyde always seemed to know without being told when a financial crisis was developing, and was there with a helping hand.

I know that many other students at WT, during my time there and before and after, received the same sort of job-assistance from Clyde Warwick of The Canyon News.

Clyde Warwick was, in my humble and prejudiced opinion, one of the great weekly editors of our time . . . but more than that, he was a great and good friend to many of us in the newspaper profession, and the standards which he set for us, by precept and example, will long remain in our memory.

Medical Center Plans Recited

Plans for making Amarillo a medical center for the Tri-State area were explained Tuesday for the Canyon Rotary Club by F. V. Wallace of Amarillo, chairman of the hospital committee of the Citizens Health Council.

Wallace, who is secretary of the Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation, is a member of the Board of Managers of Northwest Texas Hospital.

He said that Amarillo has already become the region's medical center, but was not prepared for the job necessary to be efficient. He said plans now are for increasing the bed capacity of Northwest Texas Hospital from 208 to 278, St. Anthony's Hospital from 135 to about 235 or 285.

Future work will be done on a tract of land near the Veterans Hospital to care for additional hospital and medical centers, homes for the aged, and a school of medicine.

Resolutions of sympathy to the family of Clyde Warwick, a charter member and former president of the Canyon Rotary Club, were read by Doyle Ragle.

Visiting Rotarians were Van H. Allm and Hardy Stevens of Amarillo. Guests included W. E. Lindsey, guest of E. L. Lindsey, Ray Franks, guest of Hosea Foster, and Douglass Rohre, guest of J. B. Roberts.

DOUBLE STAMP DAY TUESDAY

Club Gives $5 to Christmas Project

The Palo Duro Mother-in-Law Club voted to donate $5 to the Christmas Card Project for a community center for Canyon at a meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Rae M. Walters.

Mrs. R. A. Neblett, a guest at the meeting and a member of the Woman's Book Club, explained the Christmas Card Project to the group and urged the women to back it.

After roll call, Mrs. Leonard Winters outlined plans for the national convention of mother-in-laws to be held in Canyon next March. Committees for this event were named.

It was announced that a "come-as-you-are" breakfast is to be given for October members in the near future. October hostesses will be Mrs. P. L. Pitt and Mrs. Laura SoRelle.

Mrs. Earl Burtz was co-hostess at the September meeting.

Present were Mrs. Jeannette Robbins, Mrs. H. E. Kelso, Mrs. E. E. Plank, Mrs. J. L. Hilgenfeld, Mrs. George Barker, Mrs. Fred Marshall, Mrs. Bill Money, Mrs. J. P. Hammons, Mrs. Winters, Mrs. Pitt and Mrs. Walters. Guests were Mrs. Neblett and Mrs. Ethel Hammons of Lovington, N. M.

Canyon B-Team Takes 41-0 Win

Canyon High's B-Team swarmed over Horace Mann of Amarillo Thursday afternoon by a score of 41-0.

Scoring for Canyon was led by Mike Poole who crossed on a 70-yard run and two passes, one for 40 yards and one for 35. Both were thrown by Jerry Richardson.

Chuck Nester followed closely with two touchdowns — one for three yards and one for five — and two extra points. Bob Winn made one touchdown from the one-yard line and two extra points.

Ross Bond entered the scoring column with one extra point. Outstanding linemen were tackles Glen Devin and Jackie Breitling, according to coach Lynn Hulsey.

Jr. High Teams Split Twinbill

The Canyon eighth and seventh grades split a double-header football match with Olton last week.

The eighth grade game was a lopsided 49-7 victory for Canyon while the seventh grade score was Olton 13, Canyon 7.

Outstanding in the games were Jerry Ham for the eighth grade and Harry Lisle and Bill Phillips for the seventh grade.

Canyon Girl Named To Fashion Board

Gayle Welch, senior at Canyon High School, has been elected to McCall's Patterns' Teen Fashion Board for the 1957-58 school year, according to an announcement by Kit Mason, school service director of the pattern company.

Miss Welch is one of 800 senior high school students from over the United States nominated to the board by their home economics teachers on the basis of sewing skill, fashion knowledge and school leadership. Only one student from each school is eligible.

As a member of the Teen Fashion Board, each girl is deemed qualified to act as an advisor to the design department of McCall's Patterns, and is sent special advance fashion material from New York throughout the year.

Every board member also receives a membership certificate, card and pin, and a subscription to McCall's "Today's Teens," and a McCall's pattern of her choice.

Frosh Downed 7-0 by Olton

Canyon High School's Freshman team was defeated by a score of 7-0 in a game against the Olton B-Team here Thursday.

The game, originally scheduled between freshman teams, was changed by Olton. Because Olton does not have enough freshmen to field a team, the Olton coach was allowed to bring along other players—and those brought included everything from freshmen to ineligible junior transfers.

THE CANYON NEWS

Cherry Blossoms

By DOVIE CHERRY

There's one thing I hope never goes out of fashion, and that's a mail order catalogue, more affectionately known as a good old wishbook. A wishbook is the best way and the safest way I know to cure the "wants." You know how it is. First thing you know you find yourself thinking . . .

My, wouldn't new drapes perk up this room . . . a new coat is just what I need for this winter . . . if we could only get a new living room suite . . . boy, those were the fanciest golf clubs Sam had; sure make mine look shabby . . .

And, first thing you know, your money, if you're lucky enough to have any, is burning a hole in your pocket.

Now, if you take a trip down to the store to look at those numerous wants, some crafty clerk is likely to finish convincing you that you really do need those things and have you thinking, "Well, what are a few more down payments each month, anyway?"

But, if you just sit down and gaze idly through a wishbook and have the buying spree of your life, vicariously of course, then maybe the "wants" will be cured. At any rate, it's going to take a little time to fill out the order blank and during that time common sense may again gain the upper hand.

Besides, there is nothing a woman, or I guess most women, like to do better than window shop, and a wishbook is a good way to get the look without the wear.

A catalogue has other uses besides just passing time and letting you do a little safe shopping. It comes in handy for estimating prices on a room you would like to furnish or a fence you would like to build without moving out of your front room.

Some people even use it for looking up household or fancy interior decorating names they're not sure about.

Goodness knows a catalogue is good for ordering just about anything, even monkeys.

I didn't know monkeys were mail order items until recently when W. O. (Bill) Latson, assistant band director at the college, ordered himself a spider monkey.

He really did. Named Jacque, this monkey has black hair trimmed to a crew cut on top, long, long arms and an equally long tail.

Jacque is a pretty obedient pet but likes to exercise his stretching arm for such things as coffee cups on tables and he doesn't have to be sitting too close to reach such things.

Jacque doesn't like this cool weather we're having. He's a warm climate fellow and nothing else. Jock makes three noises. A contented one, a so-so one and a terrified one. The latter is a little bit hard on unaccustomed nerves.

I was wondering how the banana bill was coming along. Well, it's not just a banana bill; it's grape, apple and other fruits bill plus a small bit of meat and bread.

Anyway, this was all to say I hope wishbooks stay around for awhile; I may want to order an elephant.

The community center project is still a relatively moneyless project. The Palo Duro Mother-in-Law Club voted recently to give $5 to the project. By the way, this $5 came out of their $8 treasury.

Monday, Mrs. Dick Loudder's contribution to the Christmas Card Fund was the only one in the account at the First National Bank.

But, after Sunday the Junior Woman's Book Club hopes to be able to add some to the fund. Sunday from 2:30 to 6 p. m. is the date and time for the home

Variety Ring Makes Plans for Project

The Christmas Card Project for a community center was discussed by the Variety Ring at a meeting Sept. 19 in the home of Mrs. Fred Marshall. The group made plans to back the project.

A short business meeting was conducted and then the guessing box was passed. The contents, a small fan, was guessed after the first clue was given.

Refreshments were served to one guest, Mrs. Joyce Barker, and members, Mrs. P. L. Pitt, Mrs. Levi Cole, Mrs. Rae Walters, Mrs. J. P. Hammons, Mrs. Mae Johnson, Mrs. Earl Burtz, Mrs. George Barker, Mrs. George Cox and the hostess.

Nolon Hensons Move To Lubbock

four which the club is sponsoring to raise money for a community center. Needless to say, the women would greatly appreciate your buying a ticket, or two or three.

Here are a few reminders about the community center campaign.

There are four questions to be asked every club in Canyon. Representatives from 10 clubs heard the questions a week ago Tuesday night, but many organizations still had to be contacted. Here are the questions:

1. Is the organization interested?
2. What are the organization's peculiar needs in a community center—kitchen facilities, etc.?
3. Who is to represent the organization in a united group from which officers are to be elected?
4. What financial support can the organization give?

The names of the persons representing the different interested organizations are to be told to Riley Troth by Oct. 20 so they all can meet Oct. 22 and report.

Another reminder. Any club who needs the Christmas Card Project explained to them may contact Mrs. Dick Loudder, Mrs. R. P. Jarrett or Mrs. George Dudley Moore Sr.

Just about everybody and his wool blanket went to the WT-Tech game, and I haven't heard a single person say they were sorry. Comment runs more to the jist of, "If I hadn't gone I would have hated myself forever."

LOUISE HIGDON

Presents Senior Recital Sunday

Louise Higdon will present Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. her high school senior piano recital. The public is invited to attend the recital which is to be in the high school cafeteria.

Miss Higdon, a student of Mrs. Houston Bright's, has studied piano for 11 years and during this time has given many recitals. She has accompanied the high school choir and has won top ratings in four annual piano contests.

In addition she has been interested in choir singing and has sung in the high school choir and the First Christian Church choir.

Nancy Cleavinger, flutist in the high school band, will play two assisting numbers in the recital. Miss Cleavinger, who is instructed by Herman Demus, will be accompanied by Dorothy Higdon, pianist.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gaylor of Dalhart and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Chandler of Borger were weekend visitors in the Happy McAttee home.

Lazy days in the yard, or comfortably slumped in an easy chair reading, will be only a memory for the next nine months, and talk will turn to membership lists, speakers and assistant hostesses.

Almost every day the mailbox yields a reminder of what's to come: Here's a statement of club dues: "Do try to have these in by the 15th of the month, so your name can appear in the yearbook." Yesterday it was tickets "enclosed for your convenience," to a fall style show — one club's annual fundraising project. Last week it was a request for "your choice of activities this fall," right down the list of a dozen or so, through the ambitious "Others you suggest."

Telephone committee, biding their time till everyone got back into town — and the children were off the phone — are swinging into action. Each morning brings us out of the kitchen for a couple of calls: "Susie is moving away; can you take the chairmanship?" "We'll need your glass plates and cups, if you don't mind."

And with the club buzz comes a general tightening up. The long, unscheduled days of summer are gone. Fall clothes begin to beckon from shop windows and newspaper ads. Eyes that have seen only family activities for weeks and weeks now dare face their owner in the mirror: Have I gained weight? I must get a permanent! Is that a leather mask or just my face?

Yes, the club season is here. So shoulders back, ladies! Chin up and hips tucked in! Shake out your banners and let's march into fall!
